SHOOTING AT RAGTOWN SUNDAY

ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MEET OPPOSITION WHEN THEY TRY TO MAKE ARREST — TWO ARE WOUNDED.

Deputy United States Marshal Hignight and Enforcement Officer Brazel indulged in a shooting affray with Joe Colson, an alleged bootlegger near Ragtown late yesterday afternoon, and as a result Hignight is in the Hardy sanitarium suffering from a shotgun wound in the head and shoulders, and Colson is in the Waurika jail, shot through the left shoulder by Officer Brazel.

It is reported that the officers heard that Colson had a big plant of whiskey, and they went after the stuff and to place him under arrest for introducing. They secured between four and five hundred pints, and after getting the stuff, the officers told Colson to get his coat and come with them. He entered the house as they supposed to get that garment, but emerged with a shotgun instead, and proceeded to shoot. He shot Hignight in the back of the head and shoulders, but fortunately did not hit him in the face, otherwise his eyesight might have been destroyed. Brazel, who was outside the box house, shot through the thin walls and wounded Colson in the shoulder. In the melee Colson slipped away, mounted his horse and rode to Waurika, wounded as he was, and was placed in the Jefferson county jail. Mr. Hignight was brought to the Hardy Sanitarium, where his wounds were dressed, and he is resting easily today.

For some time the marshal has been making life miserable for the illicit liquor dealers about the oil fields, and they are not very fond of him or of his methods of putting a crimp in their transactions. Therefore, when the opportunity arose, one of their number took a chance, and got the worst of the transaction. Mr. Hignight will be about again in a few days unless unforeseen complications arise.

The officers emptied their six-shooters at Colson, but the only shot that took effect was that from the automatic of Brazel, while Colson loaded his gun the second time.

NEW NAVAL RULE WILL BE MILITANT

ENGLAND'S NEW NAVAL LORD IS SEA DOG OF THE OLD SCHOOL — HIS WAR MAXIMS BRISTLES WITH THREE R'S.

London, Nov. 1.—Fred T. Jane, naval author and journalist, whose intimate acquaintance with naval matters makes his statements authoritative, writing in the Evening Standard, says that under the Fisher naval administration "we may expect a rapid curtailment of the rights of centrals to come and go as they please."

Historical Society

"Ruthless, Doss and relentless," the writer says, "was one of Lord Fisher's war maxims in the old days. We may look for short shrift for any German captured who has achieved results from using any flag except his own. It probably will be a case of hang first and inquiry afterward, and if public opinion or the cabinet object, let them object." Jane suggests that the humanitarian element in the British cabinet has hitherto interfered in a question like that of mine laying and he says that Lord Fisher will not permit such interference.

CARTER MADE A GREAT HIT SATURDAY

HIS CAMPAIGN OF THE COUNTY WILL HAVE FAR-REACHING EFFECT ON TOMORROW'S ELECTION.

Charley Carter has done as much, if not more, for the democratic party, in his campaign of the county Saturday, than all the rest of the political speakers who have visited here combined. Perhaps it is from the fact that everyone knows Charley and believes in him, but aside from this, his speeches were full of logic and were convincing to the rank and file of the other two parties who are in the fight. His speech here Saturday night was a masterpiece, and after the two hours spent in listening to him, the great crowd was so interested that they did not wish him to stop.

Some of the extracts from his speech make mighty good campaign literature, and the county central committee is using them today in circulars that are being sent broadcast over the county and district.

Mr. Carter left this noon for Marietta, where he will address the voters tonight. He will speak at Burleyville this afternoon, and will return to this city, where he will be for two or three weeks.

Mrs. Carter is expected from Washington in a few days.

Turkey Eleventh Nation.

London, Nov. 2.—Turkey has definitely thrown in her lot with Austria and Germany, and if Portugal is counted, there now are eleven powers at war, with prospects of three more—Greece, Bulgaria and Roumania—being drawn in.

The note which Great Britain presented to Turkey on Friday last, demanding an explanation of the actions of the Turkish fleet in the Black sea and the dismantling of the former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, was really an ultimatum, to which Turkey was required to make a reply by Saturday evening.

So far as is known here, telegraph communication with Turkey being interrupted, no answer was made and the ambassadors of the Triple Entente at the capital, it is understood, demanded and received their passports.

Turkish troops, which had been on the Egyptian border for some time, were reported to have crossed the frontier, while the Turkish fleet continues to menace Russian towns and shipping in the Black sea.

Neither Russia nor Great Britain was unprepared for this move by Turkey, which, government officials say, was known to have been taken under the influence of Germany, and the allied powers have forces on hand ready to oppose Turkish invasion.

When the regular forces were withdrawn from Egypt to take part in the war in Europe, they were immediately replaced by troops from home much greater in numbers at least, and only last week they paraded through the streets of Cairo, making a splendid showing.

The rainfall during the entire month of October was .05 which is a mere trace and not enough to be worth anything to growing crops. The rainfall in September was two and a-half inches, and that amount of moisture put the land in fine shape for wheat sowing.
